

MISS BEULAH OLIVER My Choice For Register

Many things have been said about Miss Oliver that is only campaign talk I do not think her opponent would say or have any one state. People who know Miss Oliver will not let any political talk change them, and those that do not know her should be careful before casting a vote against her, especially if you are inclined to vote against her because someone had heard so and so. It has been stated by many, she had a farm and money. This is not true, but if it were, I do not see why any one should vote against her just because of being in possession of means. The fact is, she and one sister own a small frame house with debt on same and this is the only thing she can call a part of it her own. I am sorry the people want to think Miss Oliver in good shape and her opponent not. Let us be fair and consider the two—Miss Oliver is older than her opponent, why not give the office to her this time and later give to her opponent. Her opponent can write shorthand; Miss Oliver cannot; this is worth hundreds of dollars to any one; as the Register's office does not require any shorthand writing, her opponent would not have any short hand writing to do if she should defeat Miss Oliver. The fact is that her opponent has admitted she had Liberty Bonds, and I am glad she has, would you think any one hard run could purchase Liberty Bonds. During the war, her opponent had a government position given her by a board of three men, Miss Oliver had a brother on this board. This government position paid about twice or three times the salary that Miss Oliver received as Deputy Register; further more a brother of Miss Oliver ask her opponent one day, if her relative, Dr. Lee, wanted a good place in State Hospital, this opponent at once called Dr. Lee and had him call on Miss Oliver's brother for the position. The position was given to Dr. Lee. Now please tell me why anyone should say uncomplimentary things about Miss Oliver when she and her people are very friendly and interested in her opponent and relatives.

The report has gone out Miss Oliver underbid her opponent for position under the present Register. This is false, the fact is her opponent asked the present Register to raise her salary. He said he could not, so this opponent resigned; after her resignation the present Register employed Miss Oliver on a stated salary and said he would raise her as he could. The fact is Miss Oliver had a five dollar raise only. She insisted on the Register giving her more money. He would not and she talked of resigning but did not know of any position she could get elsewhere and not writing short hand it would be very hard for her to get any position. Her friends advised her to stay in the Register's office, if it did not pay much and the good people of Henry County would give her the place on election day. After you consider all as a voter and taxpayer I kindly insist on you voting for Miss Oliver on Oct. 15th. I noticed in a paper a few weeks ago some one was writing what Miss Oliver had gone through, being the older of ten children and losing her father and mother twenty-one years ago. Miss Oliver was born a short while after the Civil War, and had to suffer the reconstruction days in her youth. Her father being one of the boys that wore the Gray for four years under Gen. Forrest and after years she had a brother that saw service in the Spanish-American war. Still later she had another brother that saw active service on the battlefields of France. Today this brother is what you call a car-repair man in the railroad shops in New Orleans, La., working six days in the week to support his tubercular wife and little baby who is in Dalhart, Texas, confined to a sleeping porch in the home of the Spanish-American war brother. This brother also is a railroad employee in Dalhart. You can plainly see Miss Oliver has not had a "bed of roses."

I know the ladies and gentlemen of Henry County will not let big head lines in papers vote them, paid advertisements as you see advertised as political advertisements "A Sure Winner."

Let us put our shoulders to the wheel and place Miss Oliver in first place as we did Manning over Spaulding. Miss Oliver was Manning's deputy and her opponent was Spaulding's. You recall Spaulding led Manning six hundred votes eight years ago and in the run-off, Manning led Spaulding three hundred votes. It can be done again with your vote Oct. 15th, 1921. We have three times as many floating votes and only one-third as many to get as Manning did. It is talked in all districts that Miss Oliver is gaining. The history of Henry County in all run-off elections the second candidate has gained more than two hundred and twenty votes. If we keep up previous records Miss Oliver will win Saturday. So come on voters and help elect Miss Oliver. Remember the day, Oct. 15th, 1921.

street will hereafter be officially known as Lee street.

A soil sewer line was ordered laid on Church street from Brewer street to the colored church building. The extension of the soil sewer on E. Wood street was ordered completed at once.

The period for the property owners laying sidewalks on the north side of Depot street between the levee bridge and the L. & N. passenger station having expired, and brought to the attention of the council by the streets and public property committee, the board of public works was instructed immediately to have these walks laid and charged against the abutting property. To complete the sidewalk system on the east side of Brewer street, a walk was ordered in front of the J. P. Haynes residence and in front of the W. S. Beard residence.

Several new ordinances, previously ordered, were reported on by the ordinance committee as ready, but passed until next meeting on account of there not being sufficient time to complete this program.

The special committee handling the condemnation of certain property east of Brewer street for city liveries stable purposes reported progress and the chairman stated he hoped to close out every piece of property sought without having to proceed in circuit court.
